Place Name, in conjunction with the EPA, invite you to join us at the parish hall in Place Name for an action packed training programme to teach people how to reduce food waste and compost at home or within your community.

Training consists of five evening classroom sessions and three weekend afternoon hands-on workshops to gain the knowledge required to stop food waste and save money as well as learn how to compost both garden materials and wasted food using a variety of different composting systems. The training is offered free of charge, but volunteers are expected to contribute outreach time afterward to spread the word and motivate others. Plus funding and technical support are being offered for developing Tidy Town, school and community based projects once the training has been completed. This is a unique opportunity for any community group!

- ✧ Make a difference in your community
- ✧ Help your Tidy Town's programme
- ✧ Protect our environment
- ✧ Meet like-minded people
- ✧ Save money and have fun
